Release of Liability: In consideration of the acceptance of my participation in Devon's Beat, I, the undersigned, intend to legally bound hereby waive and release for myself, my heirs, executor, and administrators, any and all rights & claims for damages, demands and actions whatsoever, including negligence against all sponsors, all volunteers and all supporters and those entities, representatives, successors, and assigns, arising out of my participating at their event, including any and all injuries suffered as a result of this event. I certify that I am physically fit and have sufficiently trained for this event.

Devon was just 10 years old when he collapsed at school. Everyone assumed it was dehydration—but his mom knew something wasn't right. She refused to accept the easy answer, and that persistence saved his life. Doctors discovered he had Long QT syndrome, a hidden heart condition that put him at high risk for sudden cardiac arrest. Most kids never get a warning sign. For many, the first symptom is death. Devon was one of the lucky ones.

Now, 12 years later, he's not just surviving—he's thriving. In December, he graduated summa cum laude and as a Presidential Honors Scholar from Quincy University. His story is proof: early detection can mean the difference between life and loss.
